Use Me.

BY DR. BUNAR. Make use of me, my God !

Let me not be forgot; A broken vessel cast aside -One whom Thou needest not.

I am Thy creature, Lord, And made by hands divine ; And I am part, however mean, Of this great world of Thine.

Thou usest all Thy works-The weakest thing that be ; Each has a service of its own, For all things wait on Thee.

Thou usest the high slars, The tiny dr ps of dow, The giant peak and lighte hill ; My God, oh, use my too!

Thou usest tree and fower, The rivers vast and small; The eagle great, the Itle bird That sings upon th, swall.

Thou usest the wide i.a. The little hidden lage, The pine upon the Algine cliff, The lily in the brake;

The huge rock in the -ale, The sand grain by the sea, The thunder of the rolling cloud, The marmur of the bee.

All things do serve Thee here-All creatures, great and small; Make use of me, of me, my God. The weakest of them all.

VARIETY.

Love can excuse anything except meanness; but meanness kills love and cripples even natural affec-

A wise man may be pinched by poverty, but only a fool will let himself be pinched by tight shoes. Every one take care of himself-as the jackass said when he was dancing among the chickens.

Whoever is afraid of submitting any question, civil or religious, to the test of free discussion, is more in love with his own opinion than with truth. Infants count by minutes; children by days; men by years; comets by revolutions of ages; nature by revolutions of systems; the Eternal meditates in a

EFFECTS OF ENCOURAGEMENT. -The celebrated Benjamin West related that his mother once kissed him eagerly when he showed her a likeness he had sketched of his buby sister; and he adds, "That kiss made me a painter."

It is extraordinary how many defects we can discern in a friend after we have quarreled with him. The same remark applies to a woman after she has rejected us Leaves are light, and useles,, and idle, and wavering, and changeable : they even dance : yet God has made them part of the o.k. In so doing, He has given us a lesson not to d ny the stout heartedness within, because we see the fightsomeness without. -Guesses at Truth.

Charcoal put to the roots of dahlias and other flowering plants will redden them vividly; flowers nearly white being thus turne; to a deep red, sometimes altogether, and sometimes mixed with the lighter hues in half a dozen varieties, from one and the same root.

A married man falling into disfortune is more apt to retrieve his situation in the world than a single one, chiefly because his spirit? are soothed and retrieved by domestic endearmenes, and his self-respect kept alive by finding that almough all abroad be darkness and humilistion, yet chere is a little world of love at home over which he a monarch.

TRANSCENDENTALISM -" You know, madam, that you can not make a purse cut of a sow's ear." "Oh, sir, please fan me. I have intimations of a ewoon. When you use that od as specimen of vulgarity again, clothe it in refined phraseology! You should say, ' it is impossible to tabricate a pecuniary receptacle from the auricular or an of the softer sex of the genus hog."

A boy who asked a Boston police officer for shelter in the station said : " You see! Captain, first my father died, and then my mother married again, and my mother died, and my father married again, and somehow or other I don't seem to have no parents at all, nor no home, nor no nothing " A man's force in this world, other things being equal, is just in the ratio of the strength and force of his heart. A full hearted man is always a powerful man-if he be erroneous, he is powerful for error; if the thing is in his heart, he is sure to make it notorious, even though it be desnright falsenood. Let a man be ever so ignorant, still, it his heart is full of love to the cause, he becomes a powerful man for that of ject, because he has heart-power, heart-

THE APPROACH OF SLEEP. - It is a Celicious moment, certainly, that of being well nestied in bed, and feeling that you shall drop gently to sleep. The good is to come-not past; the limbs have been ju-t tired enough to render the remaining in one posture delightful; the labor of the day is done. A gentle failure of the perceptions comes creeping over one; the spirit of consciousness disengages itself more and more with slow and husbing degrees, like a mother detaching her hand from that of her sleeping child; the mind seems to have a balmy lid closing over it, like the eye: 'tis closing-'tis more closed-'tis closed The mysterious spirit has gone to take its airy rounds

HINTS TO VISITORS -The Saginaw Republican has an ill natured foreman whom the publishers of that paper were compelled to gratify by publishing the allowing hints to visitors to the composing room :

"Don't ask the question, ' How large is your subscription list?' Ask the editor how many shires he has, or how many pairs of stockings-either of the above questions might be asked with equal propriety. Don't look over the copy that the compositors are setting; don't whistle, sing or dance-printers generallyy get free tickets to the best dances and concerts, and have a critical ear for music. Don't touch enything. Though you may not know how easy it is to knock down a column of type, we do not wish you to try it. We do not want boys to come into the office at all-we keep a DEVIL here, and 'evil communications corrupt good manners.' . Don't try to read the types that are standing-we offer no premiums for such achievements."

fect the Sewing Machine art is to carry joy and gladness to no small portion of the civilized world; but to render the Sewing Machine art in the highest dregree useful it is necessary. To divest the Sewing Machine of every loose and clumsy attachment and every fancy and complicated contrivance.
 It must be simple in its construction throughout, that it may be easily understood and readily adjusted. 3. It must be certain in its results. 4. It must be adapted to a great range of work, as most families can have but one machine for all kinds of sewing.

5 It should be strong and durable in all its parts.

The above and more we claim for the Little Giant Family Sewing Machine. It is an easy task to offer high-sounding references and mentions—and still easier to publish nonsensical medal talk of Flippant and Fist ering testimonials—which is of no earthly service to the buyer, since the poorest machines furnish them in the greatest abundance, and that too of neces-Sity, to conceal their lack of merit. The Giant Family Sewing Machine has passed the fiery ordeal of all machines, both high and low, for the past year, and the severe scrutiny of the most skeptical, but has come out unscathed, and now stands before the Public as the BEST family sewing machine in use. Cast off machines are advertised daily at low and half priors, which are deemed worthless the public well know. We, therefore, would seek simply an intelligent examination of the merits of our machines in comparison with the high priced machines. Every machine warranted and kept in order free of charge.

Recollect, price only $15. N. B -We have no connection with any other agency, firm, or company whatever. A full supply of Machines, HEMMERS, needles, Silk Twist, and everything appertaining to Sewing Machines, constantly on hand, wholesale or retail. All orders promptly attended to. Agents supplied on liberal terms. MILLER & BUCKLIN.
